Nolan Painting Lends a Hand to Two Area Nonprofits

Eighth annual "Good Deeds Day" festivities include painting and minor repairs at two deserving locations

HAVERTOWN, Pa. – August 15, 2007 – Volunteers from Nolan Painting, Inc., a residential painting contractor and color consulting company based in Havertown, Pa., were out in force early on Saturday August 11, 2007 as the company held its eighth annual "Good Deeds Day." In honor of the event, employees, family and friends of the company donated their time, materials and manpower to help spruce up the interiors of two Philadelphia-area nonprofit organizations.

The two deserving recipients, the Havertown Center for Older Adults and The Bryn Mawr Terrace, a residential care center for older adults, received fresh coats of paint and repairs to entryways, reception areas, lounges, offices, a cafeteria and other spaces.

"It was wonderful to see our employees, friends and business partners giving their time and effort to benefit such worthy organizations," said Kevin Nolan, president and CEO of Nolan Painting. "We place a high priority on community service, and our annual 'Good Deeds Day' is just one of the ways we feel that we can give back to the local community."

Volunteers arrived at each of the sites as early as 7:30 a.m., and the majority of the work was completed by early afternoon. In addition to nearly all of Nolan Painting's employees, representatives from M.A.B. Paints and the 3M Company, both key supporters and business partners of Nolan Painting, were on hand to paint and provide assistance.

Previous recipients of "Good Deeds Day" volunteer work have included the American Cancer Society, a church and a domestic abuse shelter, among others. In addition to the annual volunteer event, Nolan Painting is active in a number of other community initiatives throughout the year. The company is also the host of the annual Reindeer Romp 5K road race, which has raised nearly $125,000 for the American Cancer Society since its inception in 1998.

As a thank you for all of their hard work, Nolan Painting hosted a carnival for volunteers and their families shortly after the work was completed. Attendees were treated to food and games that included a dunk tank and various other activities.
